On July 18, 1994, an unidentified deceased individual was found suspended in a 'tree canopy,' 12 feet above a creek bed near DeKalb Industrial Way. The tree canopy is described as a 'very large, igloo-shaped, kudzu and vine canopy.' The individual was found wearing blue jeans with a size 32 waist and 31 inseams, along with a USPS key and a pocket knife. Due to a note found in the individual's pocket, it is suspected he was a patient at the Bridgeport Transitional Living Center at some point in the past.
